SUCCESS STORIES

IMPROVED STUDENT ATTENDANCE

Thomas Jefferson was excited to announce the kickoff of their first attendance campaign as a new Community School. The classroom with the highest daily attendance percentage at the end of each month in March, April and May had a pizza party or another choice reward. The students at Thomas Jefferson loved this opportunity and getting competitive.

NEW AFTER-SCHOOL PROGRAMS LEAD TO INCREASED STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

As a new Community School, Thomas Jefferson started their first after-school programs this past year. Their students were able to participate in the arts club, basketball and Push the Rock. The students really enjoyed learning new skills in basketball, working on different types of art projects and learning how to be a leader while still having fun in Push the Rock.

IMPROVED ACADEMIC ENRICHMENT

In collaboration with the art teacher, community artists, v-tech students and Liberty High School students, Thomas Jefferson hosted its first ever STEAM day. Twelve different morning activities were facilitated with the support of Liberty science students. In the afternoon, they switched the focus and students moved through 12 more stations that included art, music and cupcake decorating.
